Thanks Dean. Don't let Susan's nice, friendly demeanor fool you - she's crazy when it comes to mussels. :)

Hey Dean,

How are you doing? A colleague of mine, Susan Oetker, is working with Charles Randklev at Texas A&M, to consider some survey work in the northeastern Mexico coastal streams for Texas hornshell (Popenaias popeii). They're looking for someone familiar with Mexico to permitting, access, local contacts, etc. Would you be willing to talk them and help them get started in the right direction?

I've copied Susan, so she'll set something up if you're willing and available to chat.

Gotta get some noodles soon! Nathan
